Our packaging provides maximum protection for your products and we have solutions for everything from mobile phones and TVs to rare wines and antiques – with everything in between.

Our products replace cardboard boxes, padded envelopes, void – fill and bubble wrap; they are simple and quick to use, dramatically reducing packing time compared to traditional packaging (typically by more than three quarters) – and dramatically reducing cost.

BUBL Packaging is environmentally friendly; all materials used are recyclable and most of our products are reusable.

Put simply, with BUBL Packaging transit damage is effectively eliminated and you save time and money – without harming the environment.

ABOUT US

BUBL Packaging was formed, as BUBL Bag, in 2015 to provide better protection for goods in transit; since then the company has grown significantly and several new product lines have been introduced, creating packaging solutions for virtually every product type.

Our vision is to lead the way in packaging that provides highly effective protection for valuable and fragile goods, and that is recyclable, reusable and sustainable.
